HEAD CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

Desires to Have Primary With out Delay.

Announces and Says He Knows of No
Opposition—Plan Is Dictated By Economy.

CANDIDATE FOR CITY JAILER.

Hon. L. P. Head, representative from McCracken county in the state legislature, is in the city today arriving from Middlesboro at 9:30 o'clock, and announced his intention of being a candidate for re-election.

"I will be a candidate for re-election," he stated, "and will tomorrow write each member of the city and county committee asking that the office of representative be included with the other office to be filled by nominations this year. I want this done because it will be economical. There is but one county office to fill when the state elections are held, and if the nomination is made this year it will have the expense when the regular time for nominating comes around. This is the reason I am in Paducah today—to arrange if I can.

As to the possibility of opposition, I cannot say that I know of any so far. I have not heard of any opponents but presume there will be several out when the nomination time rolls around."

Mr. Head has made a good official and has worked hard for what he thought was right and for what the people wanted.

Mr. Head said that likely his opponents, if any, would base their claims upon the fact that he was a state official, and would be holding two positions. He said in this regard:

"I did what I believed best for the interests of Paducah as a member of the house of representatives, and stand solely upon my record. The fact that I am a servant of the state should have no bearing upon the matter. I must earn a living in some manner. What material difference does it make whether I am employed by the commonwealth or some private corporation? I am for Paducah; for a population of 50,000; and if I succeed myself shall bend my every effort to advance the material and moral interests of my constituency, which I am proud to have represented in the Kentucky general assembly."

"Though a workingman, I have tried, and shall always endeavor, to be fair and impartial in my dealings with all interests. Paducah is my home, I am for my city, my country, my ward and my side of the street against the world."

For City Jailer.

Officer Aaron Hurley announced today that he has definitely decided to run for the office of city jailer. He has been on the police force for years and is one of the best policemen in the city. The office is vacant next year.

Little Miss Mary Morris, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. W. F. Morris, of 833 Madison street, sustained a compound fracture of the left arm, below the elbow, last evening early by falling from a pony. The accident was due to a dog which jumped at the pony's head and bit it on the nose.

Little Misses Mary Morris and Tillie Bauer were "riding double" on the pony. They were on Broadway between Ninth and Tenth streets when the dog crossed from the pavement and jumped at the pony. The pony rose on his hind legs and the two little girls were thrown off.

Mary Morris fell against the curbstone. Her companion escaped with slight bruises. They were picked up and Drs. J. R. Coleman and P. H. Stewart were called. After a temporary dressing the injured girl was taken home and the arm placed in a plaster cast.

SCHOOL WORK

OF METHODIST CHURCH IS GROWING STEADILY.

System of Loaning Money to Young Students Is Proving to Be a Great Success.

The Rev. T. J. Newell returned to the city yesterday and says that the prospects for the fall opening for all the schools of the Methodist church are good. Fourteen hundred dollars was loaned by the school board of the church without interest to young men, who haven't the means to pay their own way through school. At the end of four years they may either pay the money back or continue the loan at a nominal rate of interest. Thousands of young men have gotten college educations by this plan who never could have provided the means themselves.

CURIOSITY FATAL.

To Woman Who Looked Out Window When She Heard Shots.

NON-COMMITTAL IS OLLIE JAMES

First District Congressman May or May Not Run.

He Says He Intends to Consult His Friends Before Finally Answering.

HIS NEW GUN-METAL SUIT

Louisville, August 10.—Ollie James arrived in town from London last night wearing his new English suit of gun-metal color with a verdigris effect.

James only smiles when asked about his prospective candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor. He declared this morning that he does not know whether he will be a candidate and that he has not been approached by anyone, representing Beckham or any other part of the state administration with a request to run, despite rumors that a delegation would wait upon him upon his arrival.

His friends had inferred from what he said before leaving for London that he would not be a candidate.

James said: "I am not in any manner committed either to run or not to run for governor. I have had requests from friends to make the race, but it will take more than mere assurance of my nomination to get me into the race. I did not read any home papers while I was away. I want an opportunity to confer with my friends from different parts of the state before making an announcement either way. Circumstances sometimes make it a man's duty to enter such race. Of course, no man would enter a race unless he has some prospects of winning and he ought to ascertain if his services are really needed."

WITH UMBRELLA

MRS. LLOYD DEFENDS HUSBAND AGAINST HIS CRITICS.

Scene in Grand Stand at the Wallace Park Ball Grounds Yesterday Afternoon.

If "Chief" Lloyd's playing in left garden for the Indians does not suit the fans in general, it suits one, Mrs. Lloyd, and this was clearly demonstrated at Wallace park yesterday afternoon when Lloyd was ably defended after making a bobble or two, which, it is said, were due to illness. When the grand-stand went after him after he misjudged a fly ball, Mrs. Lloyd took up his fight.

Mrs. Lloyd is an enthusiastic baseball fan. She attends all the games and roots with the remainder of the grand stand. She generally occupies a box in the middle section of the stand and was seated in the usual place yesterday. Lloyd misjudged the ball. The grand-stand began on him and the more the fans talked about the manager and his bobbles, the stronger did his wife defend him. It came to a point where she could restrain herself no longer and leaving the box she took a seat by the side of a young man who had been unfavorably critical of Lloyd's work. She warned him that any further attack on Lloyd and his playing would be resented with force, and she had an umbrella to back her up. It is said that the young man made no reply but went on watching the game. He continued his rooting, however and occasionally mentioned the manager.

After the game was called in the eighth inning the fans started to leave the stand. The young man arose and started down the steps to the bottom passage way. Mrs. Lloyd was standing behind him before he started, and it is said he made one more remark.

This was sufficient. Mrs. Lloyd's anger knew no bounds, and a resounding whack of the umbrella broke the stillness.

She had given him a strong dig with the "rain stick."

The young man paid no attention to the attack, however, and left the grand-stand.

Manager Lloyd heard of the matter. He had been misinformed of the young man's conduct and after he had thoroughly investigated did not attempt to molest the young man.

That young Brown was the victim of a woman's wiles is indicated by a note found in his clothing from Mrs. Nisbet, making an appointment with him. Mrs. Nisbet is a handsome woman of 32 years. She has two children—a boy of 10 and a girl of 6.

LESSON

GIVEN BY JUDGE PURYEAR FAILED THIS TIME.

Ida Boyd Charges That Charles Bryant Threatened Her With a Pistol.

Only two days out of a jail, where he was serving out a fine of $25 for threatening with a pistol, Charles Bryant, colored, a railroad porter, is being sought today by the police for pointing a pistol at Ida Boyd.

Patrolman John Hessian heard the woman's scream and caught Bryant as he was running from her house on Twelfth street between Harrison and Madison streets shortly after noon. The negro wrenched himself free and escaped. The officer, not knowing the gravity of Bryant's offense, did not shoot. The woman accompanied the patrolman to Magistrate Emery's court and swore out a warrant.

She said Bryant had threatened if she married any one but him he would kill her. Last Sunday he got in a fight with Tom Coles about Ida and pointed a revolver at Tom. He was fined $25 for his offense, and Tuesday Ida married Ernest Boyd, for protection against Bryant, she said.

That same day Bryant was released on payment of his fine. This afternoon he went to Ida's house and breaking in the door, according to her, wrenched the revolver, she had picked up, from her hand, and pointed it at her.

She screamed and Patrolman Hessian came to her rescue.

$33,000 IS APPROPRIATED.

Hubert Vreeland, commissioner of agriculture, is sending out inquiries concerning the date for holding county farmers' institutes and the McCracken county organization has received a communication from him. No date has been set, but the executive committee probably will be called together in a short time to make preparations.

The state now appropriates $33,000 annually for conducting these institutes and agricultural experts are sent by the state to attend the institutes and address the farmers on matters of interest to their work.
